The Himalayan combines outstanding versatility and comfort for all rides. Long-travel suspension, natural upright riding position, a durable and torquey engine all add up to a comfortable ride for you, whether it's on the highway, city streets, or remote mountain roads.

Other Important Information

- International Flights

You will have to arrange your own airfares yourself or through a travel agent. If your agent isn't up to scratch booking your flights, let us know and we can recommend our local agent.

- Food & Health

Food and staying healthy is obviously a concern when traveling overseas. We take our time in choosing the best and cleanest restaurant in the town we are in. With our years of experience traveling here, We have found what we consider the best places to eat.

Our clients are often pleasantly surprised by the delicious meals available. Even so, an occasional upset stomach cannot always be avoided in remote areas, so we advise initial caution. Participants in any of our adventure activities are obviously expected to have a reasonably high level of health, fitness and capability, but in all cases a consultation with your doctor is recommended in order to identify necessary vaccinations and precautions

- Twin Share Accomodation

Accommodation is provided on a twin-share basis and if you're on your own we'll do our best to bunk you in with an acceptable roommate. But if you're the last person to book, there's obviously a 50-50 chance you'll have to take a room on your own and will therefore be liable for the single room supplement. So the moral of the story is, book early or bring your own roommate with you.

- Tips for Indian staff at tour completion

This is obviously not the normal practice for Australians, But Indians work on the approach of receiving a tip for there services. Normally $150USD is the tip amount from each customer.

Detailed Daily Itinerary

What are we doing today?

- DAY 1: Arrival in Delhi

Delhi A warm welcome at New Delhi airport by one of our crew followed by a cab ride through the colourful hustle and bustle of our capital city. You stay in the brightly lit Paharganj area, very close to the heart of Delhi. The capital will bombard you with surprise, shock and overwhelming emotion, almost as if it were a living entity!

- DAY 2: Delhi to Chandigarh to Anandpur Sahib

We begin our travel on the Shatabdi Express Train connecting Delhi to Chandigarh, which is popular as the first planned city of India. After the 3+ hour train ride, we are greeted by our friendly crew and of course the Royal Enfield Motorcycles! Our ride begins after a friendly pooja (prayer) for the wellbeing of the whole journey. We ride some 90km to a private forest reserve in Northern Punjab. This introductory ride gives you a great opportunity to get a feel of your motorcycle, the gears, brakes and clutch, the power / torque and overtaking ability. After getting a feel of the bikes, we end the day with traditional dinner at a Haveli.

- DAY 3: Anandpur Sahib to Mandi

We start day three with a visit to Anandpur Sahib, one of the most important sacred sites of the Sikhs, located about 90 kms north-west of the capital Chandigarh and close to Kiratpur, the 'Haven of Refuge,' founded by his father Guru Hargovind, the Sixth Guru of the Sikhs. As you pass through the picturesque surroundings and into the gates of Anandpur Sahib a rejuvenating energy seems to infuse the mind and body. You drive into the pleasant town framed against the backdrop of Shivaliks as Sutlej flows quietly on the south-west and Naina Devi Temple beckons from top of the hill on the east. Just ahead, a giant Khanda, glints under the blue skies lighting up the entire town. After experiencing the tranquillity of the Gurudwara and the vast history at the Virasat-e-Khalsa museum, we set out for Mandi where we stop for the night.

What are we doing today?

- DAY 4: Mandi- Manali

This is where the real fun begins! We ride the involving twisties along the NH 21 all the way up to Manali. Among other interests en route are the Pandoh Dam and the Aut Tunnel. It is a long day, and you are rewarded by the superb hospitality of Johnsons Café! You could check out the Main Bazaar, Manu Temple and the quaint and charming town of Old Manali. The place is dotted with many cafes and eateries, various cuisines, hippies caught in a bubble, hikers, cyclists, motorcyclists... a travellers melting pot!

- DAY 5: Mananli – Rest Day

Its important when you are traveling the world to take some time out to explore the towns we stop in. Manali is the perfect place to explore to mazes of streets and Bazaar!

- DAY 6: Manali-Sarchu

The true adventure begins here. We have an early start to beat the landslides, muddy roadblocks, over- flowing nullahs (road rivers) and high altitude traffic jams! We have a chai pitstop at the mighty 4000m Rohtang La pass before descending into the Lahaul Valley. We cross Tandi, the last fuel station before Leh (another 375km odd) – so we tank up and carry spare fuel in jerry cans.

What are we doing today?

- DAY 7: Sarchu-Leh

Being the longest day of our tour, we have an early start. But time will fly with the mesmerising beauty of the landscape that we are to witness today! Climb up the 21 steep Gata Loop hairpins, do a couple of 4500m+ passes, stop for a meal at Pang which looks like it's out of a Star Wars set. And if that's not enough, we climb up the daunting Tanglang La, only the third highest pass in the world at 5300m above sea level! The infinite view on both sides of this pass is beyond words. You'll understand when you get there! We descend along the Indus river to the humble height of Leh city at 3500m at the end of the day.

- DAY 8: Leh - Rest Day

Leh is a melting pot of Ladakhis, Kashmiris, Trekkers, Motorcyclists, Hippies, Seekers and Tibetan Monks alike. It's age old markets and weather beaten faces graciously take you back in time. It is dotted with open air cafes serving world cuisine to keep you satiated on your day of rest!

- DAY 9: Leh- Hanley

Rise and shine to the warm embrace of the sun's rays on the rooftop of the world, and prepare yourself for a delightful breakfast by the picturesque Leh Township. Today, we embark on an unforgettable journey from Leh to the town of Hanley, immersing ourselves in the awe-inspiring beauty of Ladakh along the way.

Our route will take us across majestic mountains, offering breathtaking views and thrilling paths. This is very exciting as the road winds through stunning landscapes to reach the town of Hanley. We will stay overnight in preparation for the exciting ride to the highest road in the world the following day.

What are we doing today?

- DAY 10: Henly- Umling La - Henly

We will ride to the highest road in the world, reaching the peak of Umling La. This is a very important distinction on this trip and the main reason everyone joins.

Umling La, also spelled Umlung La, is the highest paved road and mountain pass in the world, located in Ladakh, India, on the ridgeline between Koyul Lungpa and the Indus River near Demchok. At an elevation of 19,024 feet (5,799 m), it forms the source for the Umlung stream that drains into the Indus and a tributary of the Kiungdul river that drains into Koyul Lungpa.

After taking photos we will return back to henly for another nights rest.

- DAY 11: Henly– Leh

Begin your day with anticipation as we embark on a thrilling journey from Henly back to Leh, taking you through remarkable landscapes and unforgettable experiences. We will traverse the same roads but believe me. It will all look completely different going in the other direction. Take a moment to savor a cup of chai, as this will be our last and final day of riding. We will enjoy and celebrate in Leh Tonight.

What are we doing today?

- DAY 12: Leh – Delhi

Check out of our hotels, head to the airport, board flight back to Delhi to finish our tour and then take a private bus to Agra – 4 hour drive from Delhi.

- DAY 13: Taj Mahal Tour

As the grand end to our incredible journey. We will visit the Taj Mahal, one of the Seven wonders of the World from there we will take a private bus to Delhi Airport (5 hour drive) and board our flights home.

PLEASE BOOK ALL FLIGHTS OUT OF DELHI FOR 8pm OR LATER

Frequently Asked Questions

What about this or that?

Q: Do I need a motorcycle license for riding in India?

A: Yes you do. To be legally riding in India you are required to carry your local driving licence, which must cover the size of bike you will be riding – 410cc. This will also be a stipulation of any travel insurance company too

Q: Do I need an International Driving Permit (IDP)?

A: Yes. An IDP is basically an official, multi-language translation of your driving licence. They are cheap, quick and easy to obtain in your home

Q: What about Insurance?

A: Travel insurance for a trip like this is a complete essential. We all know that riding motorcycles carries a certain amount of risk, so riding unfamiliar motorcycles on unfamiliar roads does not decrease that! Getting proper travel insurance that covers you for riding abroad is a no-brainer. If things go awry, you need to know that you have the correct cover to get you home safely such as emergency evacuation, medical bills, repatriation etc.

Q: What currency should I bring with me?

A: This one is both simple and complicated. The local currency is Indian Rupees – INR. However, unless you are a resident of India, importing rupees is prohibited so you cannot actually obtain the notes outside the country itself like you can for other countries. You can either bring in other currencies to exchange when in India, or simply withdraw rupees from ATMs as you would back at home. Well we say that, but if you are in a remote village with only three residents, a yak and an elderly donkey, there may not be an ATM, so don't expect universal coverage through the entire Himalayas! If you do bring cash, US dollars are universally welcome.

Q: Do I need a visa for India?

A: Yes, unless you are a national of Nepal, Bhutan or the Maldives. The easiest way to get one is to apply for an e-tourist visa online. Assuming you live in an eligible country / territory you can apply online minimum 4 days in advance of the date of arrival with a window of 120 days. For peace of mind, we recommend you do this nicely in advance to avoid any delays or issues. The visa lasts 60 days so unless you decide to extend your trip for vastly more than the length of the tour, then this should be plenty

What about this or that?

Q: Where do I fly into?

A: You will need to book return flights to Indira Gandhi International Airport in New Delhi DEL. We will send someone to meet you at the airport – so be sure to give us your full flight details.

Q: How do I carry my main luggage?

A: We are followed on the ride by either one or two support vehicles depending on group size. This means that all your luggage goes in there rather than having it bounce around on the back your Royal Enfield for miles on end. You just need to take either a tank bag or small rucksack with cameras and any travel essentials you feel you can't manage without. All the spares, luggage, medical supplies, fuel, and post-ride beer goes in the truck.

Q: What is the baggage allowance for the flight back to Delhi from Leh?

A: As this is a short domestic flight, the included baggage allowance is 15kg.

Q: How big is the group?

A: The average group size is between ten and fifteen riders as that's about the manageable amount for a mixed group. If you are booking a private tour with a group of friends or a riding club we can be a bit more flexible on the upper number as it's easier to coordinate a group that already know each other and ride together back home.

Q: Will we have a local guide?

A: Yes – definitely. All of our tours are accompanied by at least one local guide and allround fixer who can smooth our passage through India.

What about this or that?

Q: Will a mechanic be riding or driving with us?

A: Yes, our mechanics travel with us as the sweep rider at the back of the group or in the sweep truck. If you get a problem, they'll hop off their bike, give you theirs to allow you to continue and fix the problem before re-joining the group. The truck travels with a multitude of spares from spare wheels to foot peg rubbers than most! and half a bean. It does! Add it up yourself.

Q: Do I need to take water with me?

A: Regular hydration is a good idea when you ride, so many of our riders will take a Camelbak or drinks reservoir with them. There's plenty of water in the truck so we'll ensure everyone gets a drink during our frequent stops but having some with you is always a sensible move, even if it's just a bottle in your day bag my suggestion though would be to carry bottled water. If by chance your cambelbak bladder gets contaminated with a bug on the first day. The rest of the trip it may stay that way. I suggest carry a sealed bottle of water. Once you have drank it, throw it out and carry another bottle.

Q: Is there any medical support?

A: Yes. This tour is accompanied by a western qualified first aid medic who will ride with the group.

Q: What happens in case of an emergency?

A: Our medic will choose the best course of action depending on the situation. He will have a medical kit with him however if more serious an Ambulance will be called.

What about this or that?

Q: How can I avoid altitude sickness?

A: 1. Stay hydrated. Caffeine and alcohol impacts hydration, so maybe keep intake to a minimum until you are acclimatised. Apparently a high potassium diet helps. Make a conscious effort to breathe properly as we climb to higher altitudes – you want to saturate your blood with oxygen. Your tour leader will explain this in more detail in your welcome briefing. Diamox is an altitude sickness tablet – please do your own research on this – if you decide you would like to take these, You'll want to start taking these in Delhi, before we start climbing. Ibuprofen if you start to feel a headache coming on, but please notify the tour medic beforehand.

Q: What riding kit should I wear?

A: This is a regular question from all our riders. We don't provide any riding gear for this trip so bringing your own is essential. As the riding is predominantly road based in this region, then road / adventure style kit is the way to go rather than off-road or enduro gear. So that's going to mean a good helmet, protective riding jacket and trousers, ideally with CE or equivalent approved armour on the pointy bits – elbows, knees and shoulders. You are also going to need good leather gloves, a neck tube to keep out the cold and maybe even base layers for the days we are travelling at altitude and the temperature drops. You should take waterproofs if your kit doesn't keep out the wet stuff, but in reality the region is fairly dry when our tours are running. We don't recommend open face helmets as they simply do not offer the same level of protection as a full face or flip front helmet even at low speeds.

What about this or that?

Q: Do I need any immunisations for India?

A: Yes, you may do, but clearly it depends on what you've already had. The usual suspects that our riders normally get is Tetanus, Hepatitis A & B, Typhoid, and Polio. These diseases still exist in many parts of the world and India is one of them, so getting adequately immunised is a wise precaution. Please contact your local doctor or your country's national health advisory service to see what they recommend for the area you are visiting. Some of the immunisations are free, some you will need to pay for.

Q: How much spending money will I need to bring with me?

A: So, this is up to you, but as this is a largely inclusive tour, then you don't need that much. All the food (apart from rest days), accommodation, permits and fuel are sorted by us, so you just need cash for souvenirs, tips and alcoholic drinks. Unless you go absolutely mad in the gift shops and bars, then around $200 – $300 should be adequate. Shopping in India tends to be very reasonable so you can get quite a lot for not much! On the beer front, we encourage a bit of restraint – this is a riding tour after all, so we like to keep eight hours between bottle and throttle.

What about this or that?

Q: Are there ATMs on the way?

A: Yes, there are ATMs in the larger towns, but not the villages. The service can be variable as the internet coverage drops out as often as an ageing hippy, so it's best not to rely too heavily on the ATMs. Don't forget to tell your bank you are heading to India, as without this information they will most likely think some rogue hacker is dipping into your account and promptly block your card.

Q: What is the accommodation like?

A: The accommodation on this trip is deliberately varied to give you a wide experience of the region. Sometimes we'll be in top end hotels with all the facilities you'd expect, sometimes we'll be in individual yurts at campsites miles away from anywhere. But wherever we stay, bear in mind this is India and things are not necessarily the same as back home. And that's exactly the point – that's what adventure travel is about.

Q: How do I charge my camera?

A: All the hotels have plug sockets. The campsites have sockets in the tents or in the main dining tents but turn the electricity off over night. So yes you will be able to charge your gadgets most nights. There are 2 types of sockets in India – 3 Pin connections – Type D, or 2 pin connections Type C.

Q: Is Wi-Fi available throughout the tour?

A: As we said earlier, yes in theory, although in practice, Wi-Fi coverage can be slow at best, slow on average and non-existent on many occasions. When you are riding in some of the most epic landscapes in the world, then just enjoying it for yourself is beautifully liberating – you can show your photos when you get back home.

What about this or that?

Q: Can I get an Indian SIM card?

A: You can buy a local sim card in Delhi, however, this will only give you coverage for some of the trip, but far from all! Most riders just wait to use the wifi at the hotels that have it. Again the wifi isn't great, enough to message people but not watch youtube videos or downloading. We recommend you set the 'out-of-office auto-reply' for your emails!

Q: Is it safe to drink the tap water?

A: In a word No! Although the locals may be drinking tap water, doing the same has a strong possibility of playing havoc with your insides. It's called Delhi Belly for a reason. We recommend that you drink only bottled water and that you check the seal before drinking. If you chose canned drinks, give the lid a good wipe beforehand just to be sure. And for tooth brushing, rinsing with bottled water is a good idea too.

Q: Can you cater for vegetarians / food allergies?

A: As most of the population is vegetarian, then avoiding meat is no problem at all. As to food allergies that's much harder to control, especially in restaurants with small kitchens and limited experience as to the complications of lactose or gluten intolerance. We will make every effort possible to communicate your requirements to the places we visit, but we are unable to make cast iron guarantees. If you are going to go into a life-threatening spasm if you touch a stray peanut, then share it with your tour medic – we need to know that stuff. off

What about this or that?

Q: Who operates this tour?

A: This tour is operated by Aussie Bike or Hike in collaboration with our local partner based in India.

Q: How do I book?

A: To secure your place we simply need a AUD $2500 non-refundable deposit. The remainder does not need to be paid until 90 days prior to the tour start date.

Q: What payment methods do you accept?

A: We accept direct bank transfers. We do not accept Paypal or American Express.
